COLD WEATHER NO BARRIER TO
THE CONTEST FOR THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

PHILADELPHIA IS LEADING

At End of the Third Inning the Athletics Lead by a Neat Margin and Chicago Changed Pitchers.

SCORE BY INNINGS
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Cubs	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	2	0
Athletics	1	2	5	0	0	0	4	0	0

the World's series. The two teams lined up before an immense audience at two o'clock at the Cubs park as follows:

CHICAGO: Shueckard, P.; Schulte, C.; Hoffman, C.; Chance, P.; Zimmerman, 2b; Steinfeld, 3b; Tinker, ss; Kilgus, c; Reulbach, P.

ATHLETICS: Strunk, P.; Lord, P.; Collins, 2b; Baker, 3b; Davis, 1b; Murphy, P.; Barry, ss; Thomas, c; Coombs, P.

As the team came together the field was entirely clear of spectators.

First Inning.
Athletics: Strunk came first to bat and was walked by Reulbach. Lord sacrificed, Reulbach to Chance. Collins flew to Shueckard. Baker singled through center, scoring Strunk. Baker stealing, Kilgus to Tinker. One run.

Second Inning.
Cubs: Shueckard walked. Schulte doubled to the right field crowd. Hoffman flied to Strunk and Shueckard scored easily on the throw. Schulte moving up to third. Chance fanned.

MURPHY, R.F.
PHILADELPHIA AMERICAN LEAGUE

WHOSE HOME RUN BROUGHT IN THREE SCORES.

Zimmerman drove a long fly to Strunk's mitt in deep center. One run.

Second.
Athletics: Davis walked. Murphy sacrificed. Steinfeld to Chance. Barry doubled to left, scoring Davis. Thomas flew to Schulte. Coombs doubled to right, scoring Barry. Strunk went out, Zimmerman to Chance. Two runs.

Third Inning.
Cubs: Steinfeld flied out to Barry. Tinker doubled to right and Kilgus was out at first. Baker to Davis. Tinker moving to third on the play. Beaman batted for Reulbach and walked. Shueckard walked. Schulte doubled to left, his second two-base hit in two times at bat, scoring Tinker and Beaman. Hoffman fanned and retired side. Runs two.

Fourth Inning.
Athletics: McIntyre went to the mound in place of Reulbach. Lord drove a long fly to Steinfeld. Collins drove a "hot" to Steinfeld who knocked it down but could not field it in time to catch Collins who was given a hit. Baker singled to right and Schulte booted the ball, allowing Collins to score and Baker reaching third. Davis was hit and walked. Murphy doubled into right field for a home run scoring Baker and Davis ahead of him. A long wrangle ensued, but the umpire decided to allow the play to stand as a home run. Chance protested so vigorously, he was chased to the bench. Archer replaced him. McIntyre was chased off the mound and Pfister took his place. When order had been restored Pfister stepped to the plate and rapped Pfister first offering to deep center for a double. Thomas hit to Tinker, but Archer dropped the assist and the runner was safe. Barry scored. Coombs hit into a double play and was retired. Zimmerman to Tinker to Archer, along with Thomas, the latter being forced at second. Five runs.

Fourth Inning.
Cubs: Archer was retired on his first time at bat. Baker to Davis. Zimmerman flew out to Lord. Steinfeld ended an hot inning by fanning. No runs.

Fourth Inning.
Philadelphia made no runs; neither did Chicago.

Fifth Inning.
Philadelphia made no runs; Chicago none.

Sixth Inning.
Athletics: Thomas was thrown out, flied into Zimmerman's mitt. Strunk fanned. No runs.

Seventh Inning.
Philadelphia hit as they pleased and passed the plate as often as they pleased. Doubles were frequent and no runs.

Eighth Inning.
Philadelphia made no runs. Chicago scored 2.

Ninth Inning.
Philadelphia, 9; Chicago, 6.

FINAL SCORE.
Philadelphia, 12-14-0.
Chicago, 5-5-0.
Attendance, 28,210.

SITUATION MAKES STATE CAMPAIGN A COMPLEX ONE?

Decision in Bancroft Case Causes
Much Uneasiness Among Republicans.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 20.—The unique situation caused by the independence of the Wisconsin republican state central committee and the colleagues of Levi H. Bancroft on the republican state ticket to support him for election remains an unsolved problem, and the course of the republican leaders probably will not be definitely decided before Saturday, the last day for filing petitions to have names placed on the official ballot. Everything awaits the decision of Charles H. Crownhart of Superior, who was appointed as the candidate for attorney general, as to whether or not he will run as an independent.

It was learned today from unquestioned authority that Mr. Crownhart is disinclined to run, and his erstwhile running mates on the state ticket are equally undecided as to what is the best course to pursue. Not so with certain of Mr. Crownhart's friends, however. Many of the latter, most of them in Milwaukee, have decided to send out petition blanks and have the necessary signatures ready by Saturday in case Mr. Crownhart is persuaded to announce himself as an independent candidate. Only 1,000 signatures are necessary, and they may come from any part of the state, but only two days remain in which to secure them and it will be necessary to do considerable hustling.

It is quite generally believed that most of the so-called "progressive" candidates on the state ticket are opposed to Mr. Crownhart running independently, although they undoubtedly are prepared to accept the situation if he so decides.

It was learned today that the state central committee will not accept the proffered services of Mr. Bancroft as campaign speaker; will give him no duties; and the regular speaking schedule will not accept from him a contribution to the state campaign fund. In fact, Mr. Bancroft will be completely ignored as a factor in state republican politics, so far as it is within the power of the present leaders to place him in political "coventry."

WAREHOUSES BURN AT ST. LOUIS TODAY

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

[St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 20.—Many railroad warehouses and residences were destroyed by fire here early today. Property loss is estimated at $500,000 and many firemen narrowly escaped death from exploding oil tanks.

LEGAL ACTION MAY BE TAKEN SHORTLY

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Wausau, Wis., Oct. 20.—John F. Lamont, democratic candidate for congress in the Tenth district, and mayor here, today ordered the republican banner displayed in front of headquarters torn down. The banner bore a picture of Francis E. McFadden, republican nominee for governor, and the words, "The Wisconsin Idea, Able, Progressive, Fearless," among other phrases. ## PEARY TAKES THE RANK OF CAPTAIN

Arctic Explorer Advanced, as the Outcome of Retirement of Capt. U. S. G. White.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—One of the naval changes and promotions resulting from the retirement of Capt. U. S. G. White today on account of age was the advancement of Commander Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, to the rank of captain. Peary has been the only engineer in the navy with the rank of commander and his promotion to the captaincy comes as a natural advancement and is without relation to his achievements in the far North.

ADAMIRAL MILTON RETIRES.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Rear Admiral John H. Milton, one of the veteran officers of the navy, was placed on the retired list today on account of having reached the age limit for active service. Rear Admiral Milton has been more than thirty years of effective service on land and sea. Recently he has been in command of the naval training station in San Francisco.

BUG-DOCTORS GET A HEARING TODAY

Their Views Consulted at Washington Regarding Proposed Regulation of Insecticides.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Bug doctors of all sorts and from all sections of the country were given a hearing at the Department of Agriculture today. The department desires to obtain their views in regard to proposed regulations under which insecticides and fungicides are to be sold. The pure food and drug act of April 30, 1906, did not apply to insecticides, so a new law has been framed to prevent their adulteration and misbranding.

FOR A GREATER GOTHAM SUBWAY

Bids for Construction of Proposed
Tri-Borough Rapid Transit
Line by Private Capital Opened.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 20.—Bids for the construction of the proposed Tri-Borough Rapid Transit Railroad, by private capital were opened today by the Public Service Commission. Next week bids will be opened for the construction of the road with municipal bonds and later it will be determined which of the two methods will be adopted.

The Public Service Commission has recently issued a booklet containing figures showing the magnitude of the underground system of railways with which it is proposed to connect the three boroughs of Brooklyn, Manhattan and the Bronx. The tri-borough system will have a total length of nearly forty-five miles and will be capable of carrying more than one million passengers a day.

Gillette of the Russell Sage Foundation, New York City, was the principal speaker at the opening session this morning.

ATLANTA'S STRANGE MAYORALTY FIGHT

James Woodward Who Took Pledge to Save Himself From Impeachment is again a Candidate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—One of the most exciting municipal campaigns Atlanta has experienced in some years came to a whirlwind finish today, preliminary to the primary election tomorrow for the choice of mayor. James G. Woodward, whose escapades while serving as mayor some years ago attracted wide attention, is again a candidate for the office of executive of the city. During his previous tenure of the office Mr. Woodward, in order to save himself from impeachment took the pledge and promised to refrain from night visits to the "red light" district. His opponent in the present contest for the mayoralty is Courtland S. Winn, who has the support of the business element.

ERICKSON'S CLAIMS ARE SUBSTANTIATED

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 20.—Repudiation of Lief Erikson's claim to the first discovery of America in the eleventh century by Dr. Fritz Nansen, who is quoted in recent cable news as having established a group of learned historians and geographers in Norway with his statement, has not shaken the faith of Prof. Rasmus B. Anderson of this city in the authenticity of the claim put forward by all Scandinavian savants in behalf of the ancient Viking. Prof. Anderson, who is editor of "Amerika," a weekly newspaper, editor of the famous Norseman library of ancient and medieval classics and author of a famous book "America Not Discovered by Columbus" in an interview today reiterated his well known belief, but expressed the opinion that Dr. Nansen must have been misquoted. He declared that Nansen, though a brave and intrepid explorer, possessed no knowledge of history and geography that gave him the right to controvert the well established theory of the Viking discovery of "Vinland," which he supposed to have been some part of New England.

"All scholars of all lands, who have made a study of old Norse history," said Prof. Anderson, "freely admit that the discovery of and landing in America (Vinland) by Lief Erikson, in the autumn of the year 1,000, is as reliable and historic fact as that Columbus planted his feet on San Salvador, Oct. 12, 1492. It rests upon documentary evidence.

"We furthermore insist that there is an abundance of evidence to prove that Columbus had a pretty full knowledge of these Norse exploits before he started on his renowned voyage to rediscover this great continent. It is an established fact that Columbus sailed from Bristol, Eng., and to Iceland (then peopled by these same Norsemen) in February, 1477. The learned historian, Adam of Bremen, visited Denmark in the latter half of the eleventh century and wrote a book on the Scandinavian countries in the Latin tongue. In this book he makes definite mention of Vinland, and Columbus distinctly stated that he based his certainty that he would reach land after sailing 3,000 miles 'on the authority of learned writers' and 'on the reports of navigators.' It is to the credit and in defense of Columbus that his rediscovery of America was not an accident, but the result of his great research and indefatigable perseverance."

Prof. Anderson left Madison today for New York, and while in the east will seek to ascertain whether Nansen in reality made the statement attributed to him. In case the dispatch is true, an international discussion is likely to be started, as Prof. Anderson's fame in this line of research is recognized and appreciated in Europe. Prof. Anderson was United States minister to Denmark from 1881 to 1889, during which time he gathered much material from priceless manuscripts owned by the Danish government in support of his theory of the Viking discovery of America.

DAVID HILL DIES SUDDENLY TODAY

GOVERNOR AND UNITED STATES
SENATOR FROM NEW YORK STATE.

FORMER DEMOCRATIC LEADER

Was Power in His Party For Many Years—Seconded Bryan's Nomination.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 20.—David B. Hill, ex-U. S. Senator and former governor of New York, died at 3:45 this morning, aged 67.

Senator Hill was taken sick two weeks ago, but was not considered in a serious condition. Last night his illness took a sudden turn for the worse, resulting in his death this morning.

He has been a prominent figure in state and national politics since 1868 when he was a delegate to the democratic state convention. He was a delegate to several democratic national conventions, seconding Bryan's nomination in 1900. He was governor of New York 1885-91, and was elected senator in 1891.

David Bennett Hill was for a number of years one of the most influential democratic leaders in the state and was born in Havana, N. Y., August 29, 1843. He was educated at Elmira Academy, admitted to the bar in 1864, and in the same year became city attorney of Elmira. A few years later he was fairly launched upon an active political career and in 1870 he was elected to the General Assembly, to which body he was several times re-elected. In 1880 Mr. Hill was elected alderman of Elmira and two years later he became mayor of that city. His next public office was that of lieutenant-governor of New York, to which he was elected in 1882, and in 1884 he succeeded Grover Cleveland in the governorship. Governor Hill was re-elected in 1885 and 1888, and was elected to the United States senate in 1891. Since his retirement from the senate in 1897 he has taken little active part in public affairs.

AMERICA II REMAINS IN THE AIR TODAY

Balloon That Was Spoken to by Janesville People Last Heard of in Wilds of Canada.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20.—Four of the ten balloons in the international balloon race are unreported today and it still awaits as to whether in Canada they toward Hudson Bay. Balloons supposed to be absent are the Swiss Azura and Helvetia, the German Dusseldorf and the America II.

May Break Record.

Quebec, Canada, Oct. 20.—It is possible that one of the St. Louis balloons has broken all records by hundreds of lake miles by reaching Lake St. John district, Quebec province. A large balloon was reported over Klank yesterday travelling eastward.

James Boss, who lives in the town of Janesville, two miles N. E. of Loyden, spoke to one of the American balloons about five in the morning as they passed over his farm. They asked the distance from the lake, probably meaning Lake Michigan, while Mr. Boss thought it was Lake Koshong and told them twelve miles. This being the first balloon to cross this vicinity brings the total up to four that were seen near Janesville and it is probable that all of the racers passed over during the night or early morning.

LAW THAT EFFECTS TESTING OF HERDS

Wisconsin Live Stock Sanitary Board Calls Attention to New Law That Is Effective December 1.

It is of interest to stock county farmers to thoroughly understand the law which requires the testing of cattle before they are sold for tuberculous trouble and the exceptions. As this law goes into effect on December 1 it will soon be enforced. The board has also appointed the following list of persons authorized to make the tests aside from the regular veterinarians: Alvin Austin, Janesville; Howard L. Birmingham, Milton; W. T. Crandall, Milton; John R. Clark, Janesville; A. J. Dahl, Edgerton; Clinton Fisher, Ryanville; Geo. Hemingway, Hanover; F. L. Latta, Clinton Junction; Joseph Porter, Evansville; N. H. Roessler, Beloit.

The law in question is as follows: On December 1, 1910, the following law goes into effect:—1392d—1. (Ch. 512, 1909.)

Cattle, testing before sale; exception. Section 1392d—1. "From and after December, 1910, it shall be unlawful to sell or otherwise transfer any bull, cow or heifer of the bovine family, over six months old, for other than temporary feeding purposes or for exportation from the state or slaughter, unless the same has within two years prior to such sale or transfer been tuberculin tested by some competent person approved by the live stock sanitary board, and been found to be free from tuberculosis, the same to be shown by the temperature sheets of such test, one copy of which shall be delivered to the purchaser at the time of sale, and another at the same time shall be sent by mail to the state live stock sanitary board; and no person shall purchase any such animal except as above provided unless the same has been tuberculin tested, and the evidence of such test as provided in this act accompanies the animal, and no person shall at any time, or in any manner apply tuberculin to any animal unless such application be reported to the state live stock board."

Penalty. 2. "Any person who violates the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten days nor more than sixty days."

CLINTON.

Clinton, Oct. 19.—C. M. Gates, Fred Zick, C. H. Johnson and Geo. B. Huber were Clinton citizens fortunate enough to see one of the balloons go over Clinton yesterday morning at about 5 o'clock.

The 20th Century club will meet Monday evening with Mrs. A. S. Parker.

Hon. S. S. Jones says recent word from his brother, Dr. J. W. Jones, says the doctor is some better, which is good news and the doctor's numerous friends.

Elmer G. Snyder while unloading wood Monday, his glove caught on a piece of wood he had thrown off and caused him to lose his balance and he fell off the wagon onto the pile of wood, hurting his knee very badly.

C. F. McAfee has bought a Ford touring car.

The traveling musical aggregation which had billed the town for a grand ball in Hotel Clinton hall for last night, failed to appear.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Christman returned last night from Minneapolis where they have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Eva Winkfield and family for a couple of weeks.

The United Workers of Congregational church will give one of their suppers in the church parlors Friday evening. Everybody invited.

Mrs. W. O. Newhouse and baby of Janesville came down this afternoon to visit at the old homestead at South Clinton.

The water works reservoir has been completed and after allowing the cement to "cure" from a week to ten days, it will be ready to use. It holds 65,000 gallons, about the same amount as the stand tower tank at top of the hill.

WHAT'S THE USE

To Keep a "Coffee Complexion."

A lady says: "Postum has helped my complexion so much that my friends say I am growing young again. My complexion used to be coffee colored, muddy and yellow but it is now clear and rosy as when I was a girl."

"I was induced to try Postum by a friend who had suffered just as I had suffered from terrible indigestion, palpitation of the heart and sinking spells."

"After I had used Postum a week I was so much better that I was afraid it would not last. But now two years have passed and I am a well woman. I owe it all to leaving off coffee and drinking Postum in its place."

"I had drunk coffee all my life, I suspected that it was the cause of my trouble, but it was not until I actually quit coffee and started to try Postum that I became certain; then all my troubles ceased and I am now well and strong again."

"There's a reason." Look in page for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

The New Royal Stewart Steel Range

FOR COAL AND WOOD.

The selection of your range means more to you than you realize. Comfort, health and happiness are largely dependent on the wisdom of your selection. A good range makes cooking a pleasure, besides there's the important item, overlooked by many—fuel expense—enough fuel, can be wasted with a poorly built range in a year to pay the extra cost of a high grade range. Perhaps you don't know how to tell a good range from a poor one—few do. The safest plan is to buy a range of known reputation for quality and guaranteed by the manufacturer. More depends upon the workmanship than all else. Hence avoid investing in a range built by inexperienced and cheap labor. Good labor increases the cost, but it is a saving in the end. The Royal Stewart Range is the best steel range made. See them in our window. Come in and look them over. We invite comparison with any steel range. ## IS IN HIGH COURT: A CHANGE IN 1911

VALIDITY OF LAW MAKING THE INITIAL CARRIER LIABLE FOR DAMAGE.

"PIGS IS PIGS" YARN CITED

Humorous Story Used as Argument Before Supreme Court in Defense of Constitutionality of Carmack Amendment to Hepburn Law.

Washington, Oct. 20.—In arguing in defense of the Carmack amendment to the Hepburn rate law the attorney for the government cited the humorous yarn "Pigs Is Pigs" which convinced the nation several years ago as an "authority" for the constitutionality of the amendment.

This amendment makes initial carriers of interstate commerce liable for damages to or loss of freight during transportation, not only on its own line but upon the lines of connecting carriers. It also prohibits contracts releasing the initial carrier from this liability.

Plea for the Shipper. The story of the delay in the transportation of the guinea pigs until at last it required the attention of all of the officials of the road to save for the descendants of the original consignment was cited to illustrate the public need for legislation making it easier for the shipper to recover for the loss of his property or damages inflicted upon it.

The argument for the government was made by William S. Kenyon, assistant to the attorney general. He admitted that the legislation was something of an innovation, but he added that this was the day of innovations in the regulation of interstate commerce.

Easy to Locate Loss.

"While practically impossible for the shipper to locate the place of loss," said Mr. Kenyon, "it is within the carrier's knowledge and easy for him so to do. The carrier has its inspections and its receipts from connecting carriers. By the enactment of the statute in question the shipper in interstate commerce is to be relieved from following a claim through the various departments of numerous carriers until not only his patience but his money is entirely exhausted."

Joseph R. Lamar, of Augusta, Ga., attacked the law as counsel for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company. He contended that the amendment interfered with the liberty of contract, and dwelt at length on the point that the initial carrier was made liable for the wrongs of the connecting carrier, in which it had no ownership and no control.

Long and Short Haul Stands. In a formal order issued the interstate commerce commission announced its intention to administer strictly section 4 (the long and short haul provision) of the recently amended interstate commerce act.

By the terms of the order there will be no change in the existing status or in the present rights of carriers until February 17, 1911. They may file with the commission such changes in rates and tariffs as ordinarily would be filed in the course of their business under the present rate basis of adjustments.

White May Be Chief Justice.

The platform, unanimously adopted, endorsed the administrations of President Taft and Governor Pothier and upheld the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. Senator Nelson W. Aldrich was commended for his integrity, ability and loyalty to the Republican party.

EMPRESS' SLAYER KILLS SELF.

Luigi Lucchini Who Murdered Elizabeth Succeeded by Hanging.

Geneva, Oct. 20.—Luigi Lucchini, the anarchist who assassinated Empress Elizabeth of Austria in 1898, hanged himself in his cell here.

On September 10, 1898, Elizabeth, empress of Austria and queen of Hungary, was assassinated at Geneva by Lucchini, who was an anarchist. He stabbed her with a stiletto. The murderer rushed upon her and struck her as she was walking, with a single attendant, on the quay toward a lake steamer on which she intended to travel to Montreux.

As Swiss law forbids capital punishment, the assassin could be condemned only to solitary imprisonment for life.

TWO FALL 18,000 FEET

IN RACING BALLOON Harburg III. Drops Into Bay of Lake Nipissing and Aeronauts Are Hurt.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 20.—Of the ten balloons which sailed from St. Louis last Saturday in the international balloon race, six have already landed.

Three more are probably in Canadian territory, probably in the Lake Nipissing or Spanish river district. One is unaccounted for.

Lieutenant Vogt and W. F. Asmann in the balloon Harburg III. came down in the upper bay of Lake Nipissing and nearly lost their lives in the attempt to make a landing. They descended with frightful rapidity from a height estimated at 18,000 feet, with only two and one-half sacks of ballast left.

The aeronauts were unable to check the speed of their balloon in its dizzy fall toward the earth. Ballast was precious and they did not dare throw any more overboard.

Asmann was injured when the balloon struck the water. His left arm was broken, an artery was cut and his hand was sprained. The men were in the basket of their balloon in the water for over three hours.

Harburg III. had made about 775 miles in its flight. The balloon will be disqualifying from the race for making a landing in the water.

Dispatches from Paganmuse say that Le Blanc and De Mumm, in the balloon Iles de France, landed there, St. Louis No. 4, H. E. Honeywell pilot, landed near Hillman, 20 miles west of Alpena, Mich. Lack of ballast caused the landing.

The aeronauts were afraid to trust themselves above Lake Huron with the little ballast they had left.

Some of the other balloons still in the race have been reported in various parts of northern Canada.

Dispatches from Michigan say that one big balloon had been seen near Sutton's bay, in Lechuan county.

Indictments Against Weld and Rexdale in Tribunes Cases Noted.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 20.—On the motion of State's Attorney L. M. Magill, the indictments in the insurance fraud cases were noted pressed as far as they relate to Robert Rexdale, former supreme secretary to the Fraternal Tribunes, and Harold A. Weld, a former supreme treasurer and later counsel for the Fraternal Tribunes.

Rexdale and Weld were indicted along with the other supreme officers of the defunct Fraternal Tribunes and American Home Circle, on charges of conspiracy and embezzlement in the looting of the reserve fund of the Fraternal Tribunes.

Rexdale and Weld both gave important information to the state's attorney and grand jury and it is supposed that they will be witnesses for the state in the prosecution of the others.

Every Horse Owner Should Feed Case's Molasses Feed

It is no longer an experiment. Over four hundred farmers in Rock county alone have given this wonderful stock food a thorough trial and there has yet to be a single case reported where it failed to make good. Run down horses, mares or sickly colts are no longer excusable in any stable.

It has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that molasses feed is extremely beneficial to run-down colts, calves and live stock. It only remains for the wide-awake, up-to-date farmer to make every head of live stock he owns produce the utmost in dollars and cents. This can only be done by INTELLIGENT CARE AND FEEDING.

Why not make every head of stock you own earn the utmost? They can only do this by being in PRIME CONDITION and CASE'S MOLASSES FEED WILL DO THE WORK.

The time of year is here, when a good heavy frost will kill off the remaining pasture and the feed problem is staring you in the face.

It will then be up to you to feed your stock the feed that will get the best results at the lowest cost.

Read what Doctor Perschbacher, V. S., of Janesville, one of the best authorities in Southern Wisconsin, has to say:

"I have fed Case's Molasses Feed for over three years and I find it is the best feed for the money I have ever used. I have found it very effective on old horses, mares with foal, sickly colts, and in fact any stock that is in a run-down condition. If it is fed intelligently it will build stock up, fatten horses and enable them to do twice the work on much less feed. Yours truly, J. PERSCHBACHER, V. S."

Case's Molasses Feed is NOT AN EXPENSE BUT IT IS A POSITIVE SAVING to feed it BECAUSE THE INCREASED PROFITS WILL PAY FOR THE SMALL OUTLAY MANY TIMES OVER.

Don't delay, because every dollar you have invested in live stock should be paying you a large dividend. Ask yourself, is it? There is a remedy. Call or write the

WOMAN DIAMOND MERCHANT CAME FROM WHITEWATER

This Morning and Was Detained at Local Police Station—Released After Inquiry in Chicago.

Mrs. A. Branthart, the attractive woman in black who tried to negotiate a loan of $150 on diamonds in her possession through the local jewelry store on Tuesday and who left town suddenly that afternoon, in the face of an appointment made by Mr. Fleck for her to confer with a gentleman who sometimes appraises on jewelry, the following morning, was met at the depot by Chief of Police Appleby this morning. City Marshal Gill of Whitewater, on his way to the Chicago baseball game, had spotted the woman on the train as the party who had tried to secure money on precious stones in Whitewater yesterday, and as soon as an opportunity offered itself he slipped into a station along the route and phoned the local police department. The observant Mrs. Branthart saw Marshal Gill pointing her out to the chief at the Janesville depot and immediately stepped forward and addressed him. She made no serious objections when asked to accompany him to the station, declaring that a telephone message to her from the Newman Jewelry Co., 124 State street, Chicago, would adjust everything to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Anyone could see with half a glance that Mrs. Branthart bore no resemblance to sixteen year old Gladys Whitney, alias May Whitney, who is wanted in Utah for the theft of a valuable collection of diamonds on Sept. 1 and for whose apprehension a reward of $1,000 has been offered. Mrs. Branthart is over thirty, tall, inclined to plumpness, and a rather striking figure in her black tailor-made suit and turban hat and in no way "like" the half-tone picture and description of the Whitney girl on file at the station.

The collection of jewels which Mrs. Branthart submitted for inspection was impressive rather than account of size than quality. There were six large crescent-shaped brooches and from fourteen to sixteen gold and silver stones in each piece, two bracelets with numerous "amulets" in the netting, and a set of ear-rings—one of the type appearing to contain an excellent stone. It is exceedingly unlikely that the piece regarded by Mr. Fleck as a bargain at $150 could have been included in the "fireworks" displayed on Chief Appleby's desk.

The chief first communicated with Inspector Wood, head of the Chicago detective bureau, and then with the Newman Jewelry company firm. The head of the latter concern was not too pleased with the efforts which the police had made to safeguard the business. Mrs. Branthart had not paid for the jewelry she had taken from the firm but they had implicit confidence in her, and if she were trying to negotiate loans on some of it, he didn't know as it was anyone's business but her own, and so forth. Mrs. Branthart was not detained longer after these inquiries had been made and took an early afternoon train for Chicago.

The woman came here Tuesday and registered at the Hotel Myers. She left that afternoon and at ten o'clock that evening Assistant Chief of Police Fred Gillman phoned from Evansville stating that he had just gotten track of her there but that she had left town.

MANY JANESVILLE PEOPLE WITNESSED BASEBALL GAME

Seventy-five Local Fans Are Watching the Big Game Between Cubs and the Athletics.

About seventy-five Janesville people are in Chicago today to witness the third game in the world's baseball championship series between the Chicago Cubs and the Athletics. A party of thirty-eight went down on an early morning train on the Northwestern road and the St. Paul carried more fans to see the game. Among the number are: John F. Sweeney, Amos Rehberg, Maurice Dalton, Gen. Drummond, John B. Francis, Fred Palmer, James Wilson, Perry Clark, Simpson Lawson, Frank Lawson, and Walter Wilho.

"Glass-Eater" Banished: "Scatty" Jones, the gluttonous, became too bilious last evening and had to be put in jail by Officer Morley. He promised to get out of town and was released this morning without being taken to court.

WARD COMMITTED TO REFORMATORY

Nineteen Year Old Chicago Youth Pleaded Guilty to Larceny of Money and Jewels From Aunt.

Fred Ward, age 19, who was brought here from Chicago to answer to a charge of having stolen $25 in money and an opal ring from his aunt, Miss Julia Garvin, at the Fredonall flats on the 13th of October, entered a plea of guilty in municipal court this morning and was sentenced by Judge E. Field to spend one year in the Green Bay reformatory. The aunt related and wished to have the complaint withdrawn but the officials refused to permit it. Young Ward is a son of Michael Ward, formerly of DeLoit, and lived with the family of the late Chief of Police John Hogan for a while after his mother died about twelve years ago. He was afterwards sent to an orphan asylum and still later, when he had no visible means of support in Madison, to the industrial school at Green Bay.

Marriage License: A marriage license was issued today to Charles H. Kline of DeLoit and Rose A. Conwell of Janesville.

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add 1/2 pint of warm water, and about 2 1/2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready-made for $3.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gallicol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plant has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Bronchine

A GOOD COUGH CURE.

Do you remember the good old cough cure mother used to have? It didn't taste like cherry pie but it did cure a cough in a hurry. Mr. Francis, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, makes our cough medicine by percolating direct from the roots, barks and balsams of wild cherry, bloodroot, lobelia, white pine bark. Thereby obtaining the full medicinal virtue and strength of each drug, making it into a syrup we call Badger Cough Balsam. It is made after an old prescription which is today the best cure for any cough, bronchitis or lung trouble, healing and soothing to the irritated throat and lungs. It cures by expelling to expel the phlegm from the lungs, not by dosing the system with morphine and chloroform as do the modern patent cough remedies, denuding the nervous system, stupefying the lungs into retarding the mucous, thereby bringing on a possible pneumonia and pleurisy. Badger Cough Balsam is a trustworthy expectorant. It loosens up and expels the phlegm. Get a bottle today for yourself or the children. It's safe to use, 25c. ## WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

THE superintendent of schools in one of our large cities won considerable notoriety recently, by deciding that henceforth the boys, to a certain extent, should share the girls' sewing and cooking lessons.

Seems to me that notoriety ought to be false.

For, if his innovation becomes a permanent custom, as I hope it does, it will probably mean the vanishing of that absurdly helpless type of man who can scarcely get himself a glass of milk and a rocker in his own home, and who, under no pressure of circumstances, would be able to make himself a cup of tea.

And I surely think that disappearance would be a blessing to humanity.

"Oh, but I just hate a fussy man that thinks he knows all about your work, and is forever prowling around the kitchen," objected a lady to whom I was expressing my delight at this innovation.

So do I. But I think it is far cry from him to the man who doesn't know how to boil water, and I don't see why there isn't a happy medium.

There would be the last person to want to see a busy man regularly helping with the housework in his leisure hours. I think it is rank injustice to expect that. But I do think a little understanding of the work of house-making, on the man's part, would make family life smoother, both by making the man capable of looking out for himself a bit when occasion demanded, and by giving him more respect for that share of the burden which his better half carries.

I think it would be a good idea if the superintendent's innovation could be carried from the school into the home, and boys, as well as girls, expected to take a hand in helping mother about the house.

A woman who evidently believes as I do on this subject, wrote me the other day to tell me how much help her four boys are to her.

"I am a mother of four boys and one little girl," she writes. "We live on a farm and as my husband has a man to help him, there is more work for the children inside the house than outside, so I have trained my boys to help me."

"Our eldest child, a boy of fourteen, can prepare breakfast when occasion demands as well as most girls of his age. The next, a boy of ten years, can wash dishes and sweep nicely and help care for the younger children."

"Our little six-year-old boy has made several nice gingerbreads when mamma was very busy. He measured everything very carefully, too."

"By having them all help, the work is divided so that no one has an unreasonable amount and I am given some leisure to be a companion to my boys, as well as the housekeeper."

"Do you think such work will make my boys unmanly?"

Most certainly not, madame.

On the contrary, I think helping their mother will make them more considerate and more truly manly men, and I wish more boys had a similar training."

THE BIG MAN.

By MARY RUSSELL.

We hear much about the waste lands of the country. Deserted farms are a constant source of speculation and information. We are told why they are deserted and how to reclaim them.

We are told that brains must be used and common sense. The cry is for "small farms and big farmers." It is a heartsome and a wholesome cry. When you read of the wonderful returns from the small five acre patches you brace back your shoulders and determine that "some day" you will own five acres and achieve independence.

It is a splendid resolution. Every one will wish you God speed in your ambition. There is, however, a catch word in that phrase—"small farm and big farmer."

Did you overlook that word "big"? It has a meaning as wide and so deep that there is no measure save the fourth dimension which can encompass it. It is in all and through all and around all that you may attempt. And the noun which it qualifies need not be farmer. It may be merchant or mechanic, clerk or artisan, husband or son, benedict or bachelor.

What then does big mean in this application? It means to use your brain and your heart and your very soul. Even farm work requires more than mere machine work. I say even, for the farmer has for so long done his work in a mechanical way, waiting for his land and his energies that it has been numbered among the business of the world where brute strength and plenty of land is all that is required to make a living.

That day has passed. Men are waking up to the crying needs of the soil as well as of the soul. The business of being a farmer is being reduced to a science.

There are more wasted lives than farms, more abandoned acres than acres, more lost opportunities in every day life than on the farm, and all because we are seldom big enough for the place we try to fill.

Too often our trying consists in puffing out our chests and looking wise. We had much better be employed in swelling up our hearts and study to be something more than wise in looks. We need to put our souls into our work. We need to use our hearts and brains. Even the most menial task may be done with a certain deflection and brightness if we would only try to be big enough to see that it is part of the great "scheme" of life.

Reclaim yourself now and your farm next. You have to be big in more sense than one or you will make a dismal failure wherever you are. You must study your work—the work you are doing, or are pretending to do, now. It must be an earnest of the intelligence you intend to put into that "five acres." If you have, not the brains and intelligence to do the work that is around you now how do you hope to have enough to hold down the farm?

You expect to take someone else's experience and word for all you do? Many a good man has been wrecked on that reef. Don't you know that to each is given individual problems? Don't you know that unless you study the matter intelligently so that you understand what course to pursue even when there is no precedent that you are going to fail?

Do "big" in your present corner of the world. Study and think. Learn all you can about what you are doing now.

When you begin to take a deep interest in every detail of your present business, you can hope for success on the little farm—but probably you will be so successful where you are that the "call of the soil" will not be for you. Here is to you—man of courage and intelligence—wherever you are! Do a "big" man now!

to each is given individual problems? Don't you know that unless you study the matter intelligently so that you understand what course to pursue even when there is no precedent that you are going to fail?

Do "big" in your present corner of the world. Study and think. Learn all you can about what you are doing now.

When you begin to take a deep interest in every detail of your present business, you can hope for success on the little farm—but probably you will be so successful where you are that the "call of the soil" will not be for you. Here is to you—man of courage and intelligence—wherever you are! Do a "big" man now!

Digestible and Nutritious Foods. There are those who even yet, after much has been said and written about foods, their digestibility and value in repairing waste and building tissue, speak of digestible and nutritious as synonymous terms.

Foods may be very easily digested, that contain little nutriment, for example, the oyster is easily digested but is not as nutritious as we once supposed it to be. Gelatine is easily digested but is of little value as a food. The tissue-building foods are milk, cheese, eggs, fish, lean meat, poultry, dried beans, peas, nuts and grains.

Those foods that supply muscular energy and if eaten in excess are stored in the body in the form of fat, are underground vegetables, corn, rice, bacon, olive oil, cream, butter, grapes, dates, figs, honey and sugar. A digestible food is one that is assimilated, a nutritious food is one that repairs waste, builds tissue and gives heat and energy.

To Can Tomatoes. Take one gallon of water, one cupful of salt and when boiling drop in peeled tomatoes and cook until thoroughly scalded, place in cans, using a skimmer to drain off all the brine. The juice of the tomatoes will make enough liquid to cover and the brine may be reheated for other tomatoes. The brine at last may be canned as it will be less salty after using and after straining it may be used for soups.

Corn Relish. Cut corn from 12 ears of corn, chop a small head of cabbage fine, sprinkle salt all over the cabbage and let it stand three hours. Drain off the water and put corn and cabbage together, add one cupful of sugar, two quarts of vinegar, one-half cupful of ground mustard, four small red peppers chopped fine cook all until tender, sealed in bottles or put cans. If one does not like cabbage, celery may be substituted.

Relish Maxwell.

Oil for Oil Stones. There are different grades of oil stones, hard and soft. The best oil to use on an oil stone is paraffin; water is better on a hard stone.

HINTS FOR BAKERS OF CAKE

Things Always to Be Remembered Is Never to Mix Sweet and Sour Milk.

The woman who bakes cake should heed these little hints:

In recipes in which milk is used as one ingredient never mix sweet and sour together, as that has a tendency to make the cake heavy.

Always sift the flour, not merely because there may be dirt in it, but because packing injures its lightness and sifting restores it and makes bread and cake lighter.

Before beginning to mix a cake it is better to collect all the ingredients which enter into it, otherwise one or more of them may be omitted and thus spoil the cake.

All cakes without yeast should have the flour mixed in quickly just as it goes into the oven.

An oven to bake well must have a regular heat throughout, but particularly a good heat at the bottom, without which a cake will not rise in baking as in making.

Pickled Peaches. Make a quart of four pounds of sugar to one quart of vinegar, two tablespoons each of whole cloves, stick cinnamon broken in pieces tied in a muslin bag and boiled in the vinegar and sugar. Rub the velvet from a peck of peaches and cook a few at a time in the syrup until tender then place them in a stone jar or crock, and after boiling the syrup down a little, pour it over the peaches and cover. These are delicious with oysters (fried or escalloped), and will keep a year.

Gathering. To gather nicely on the sewing machine make the tension quite loose. Then pull the top thread taut and then the lower one will not pull through, as is often the case when you draw it up. It also saves tying the two ends together.

Filling for Wall Cracks. Cracks in walls may be filled up with plaster of paris. Mix this with vinegar instead of water. It will then be like putty and can be used with ease. If mixed with water it hardens so soon that it is very difficult to use it quickly enough.

Fruit Pastelles. One pound dates, one pound figs, one pound raisins, one cup English walnuts. Put all through meat grinder twice. Roll in little balls and then roll in granulated sugar press flat with an English walnut on-top. Very nice.

Stuffed Peppers. Make a stuffing of cooked rice, tomatoes, a little minced onion, and salt. Fill sweet peppers, after seeds have been removed, and bake until tender, basting frequently.

CHILDREN'S FACES
AWFUL WITH RASH

Ran Over Bodies, Too. Dry and Very Crusty—Used Cuticura and Did No More Scratching. Eczema Disappeared in 6 Weeks.

Now More Than Two Years Ago and No Sign of Trouble Has Returned.

"My two children suffered from an affection of the face and hands. It started first with little red spots which afterwards got bigger until they were the size of five-cent pieces. The outside became dry and very crusty. The rash on their faces was awful and afterwards it ran over the body, too."

"I had a doctor for them but he could not help. Then I read of the Cuticura Remedies. As I had heard of them having cured my nephew in Germany, I did not have much confidence in them. Yet I was soon taught something better, for after I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent the first time the children felt very well and did no more scratching. Then the eczema became dry and entirely disappeared after about six weeks' treatment. This is now more than two years ago and no sign of the trouble has returned, therefore I can recommend the Cuticura Remedies without reserve to all people who are suffering with eczema. William Grell, 74 Douglas St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Mar. 10, 1910."

MAKING GOOD JELLY

PREPARATION NEEDED FOR FRUIT OF DRY CHARACTER.

Substitute for Water, to Prevent Burning—Many Varieties of Which Skins and Seeds Should Be Used—Clear Day Essential.

One of the good points about a well regulated English household is the care that is bestowed upon the preparation of preserved fruits, notwithstanding their limitations, such as lack of cellar, canned fruit closet, or other proper storage room, whereas we Americans take the abundance of choice fruit and conveniences almost as an unnoted blessing.

The room in which the preparation of these mysterious delights in the way of jams, jellies, and other goodies takes under the peculiar name of "stillroom," provided over by the mistress and a stillroom maid, and in it not so long ago many hours were spent in the compounding of the artless and artful beauty lotions, such as caused a moral panic in the dear old "Year of Wakefield's guileless bosom."

And right here may be mentioned the substitute for water which is required in the case of fruit of a dry character to prevent its burning when first put in the stewpan. A juice is prepared from rhubarb stalks, which are peeled and cut in two-inch lengths, covered with sugar, and let stand over night. In the morning place over the fire and heat slowly till the juice is well extracted. One cupful of the juice to every two pounds of the fruit is the rule.

In making jellies of the larger fruits, such as apples, pears, quinces, or crab apples, they do not need peeling or coring, for the skins and seeds improve both the quality and color of the jelly. Simply wipe the fruit, slice or quarter, put into the preserving kettle with enough water to nearly cover the fruit, and simmer until tender. Remove from the fire, strain, and proceed as in making jellies of the smaller fruits.

A clear day should always be chosen for the making of all jellies, and it improves it to set it in the sunlight to cool. Select sound and not over-ripe fruit, and it should be used as soon as possible after gathering, as most fruits lose quality by standing. Quinces and certain varieties of pears are the only exceptions.

Apple Jelly.—Remove any blemish from the apples; do not peel, but simply quarter them. Put them into the preserving kettle with several stalks of rhubarb already peeled and cut into two-inch lengths. To every pound of apples put one cupful of rhubarb juice, made as directed above. Let simmer about 20 minutes, or until the apples are pulpy. Strain through a jelly bag without pressure. If pressure is used the jelly will not be as clear. Every pint of jelly allow one pound of sugar. Roll all together for about 45 minutes, stirring well and removing all scum. When it jells put in tumbler and seal. For a change of flavor a little lemon peel rind may be added with the apples or lemon juice may be added just before the jelly is put in the glasses.

A Delicious Plum Jelly.—To every pound of damsons, freed from stones, allow one pound of sugar. Set over the fire and let simmer for one hour, stirring frequently. With a wooden spoon press through a coarse sieve and return to the stewpan with equal parts of sugar and let simmer gently for two hours. Skin and hot brisley for half an hour, or until it adheres in a solid mass to the spoon. Some of the stones should be crushed and the kernels cooked with the fruit. While hot turn the jelly into glasses, but do not seal until perfectly cold.

Absent Minded.

The son of a prominent glass merchant of this city is noted for his absent-minded lapses. He once boiled his watch instead of an egg, which he held in his hand, and he tried on another occasion to let himself out of his home with his latch key. His latest effort, however, consisted in removing his lighted cigar from his mouth and carefully shutting it up in his eyeglass case.—Philadelphia Times.

The world is the only life especially when you are fortunate enough to get a fool of a wife like mine. P. S.—Standy has just stepped out. You blime fule you STAY SINGLE."

Danderine

and we can

PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to the feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the cause that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very seat in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention it needs to be expected. It would do us earthly good to treat the scalp of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention it needs to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving the hair to fall out and upon a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knephton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair food or liquid of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 2-cent bottle is enough to re-grow your hair of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNEPHTON DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and ten in silver or stamps to pay postage.

A CONSTIPATION CURE.
Constipation due to sluggish intestinal action in sedentary persons may be relieved by whole cereal foods, with daily massage, movement exercises and walking or horseback riding. Wash and grind rye grain in a home hand mill, passing it through twice or oftener. Stir into boiling water and transfer to fireless cooker in a few minutes, so as to cook long at the lowest temperature. Make it thick and eat as slowly as possible with cream, following this exclusively for a time, in severe cases. This food is inferior to rye bread in being softer, but much superior in being pure and fresh and made without fermentation or possible contamination.

DIAMONDS FOUND IN GRAVEL BEDS OF ROCK COUNTY
JANEVILLE GRAVEL USED IN BUILDING NEW CAPITOL HOLDS PRECIOUS STONES.

BRILLIANT QUARTZ CRYSTALS

Experts Find Specimens of Diamonds in the Rough in Gravel Piles on Capitol Park.
That Janesville people may have valuable specimens of diamonds in the gravel formations underlying their lots, and that they may be trampling these precious stones in the dust of their gravelled streets, is a startling yet possible fact.
Among a pile of some thousand tons of screened gravel in the capitol park at Madison, state experts and mineralogists have claimed to have found diamonds. In the rough, as well as many other precious stones of various kinds. This gravel is the output of the Janesville sandbanks and was furnished by the Janesville Sand and Gravel company who have the contract for supplying this material for the new capitol building.

Among some of the other stones which have been found are corundums with exquisite cloud effects; deep red jasper; at kind of that known as chalcodony; bits of amorphous quartz which when cut are known as blood stones. Many beautiful varieties of quartz crystals with deep and unusual shades of coloring are found and when fittingly mounted make exquisite brooches and pins.

These forms of precious and semi-precious stones as well as diamonds in the rough are found in this Rock County gravel. All the various deposits of this material throughout the southern part of the state are practically the same and differ only in coarseness and purity from foreign soils.

These deposits are glacial in character and were left here after the vast sheet of glacial ice from the north had receded. Consequently all the gravel knolls, which are commonly seen in this locality, may contain of greater or less extent these various forms of precious stones. It has been a well known fact which Prof. E. G. Smith of Beloit college and others have affirmed, that diamonds might be found in the soil hereabouts. A diamond worth $200 was found some time ago near the village of Oregon and other specimens of inferior value have been discovered in different places.

Whether these stones will be found in sufficient quantities to make exploitation worth while is not known but it is something which will bear investigation. Diamond mining may prove to be a very remunerative occupation in Rock County some day, and may serve to make this prosperous region the more prosperous.

State Veterinarian D. B. Clark Says Live Stock Board Will Ask Legislature for Appropriation.
Dr. D. B. Clark, state veterinarian, today declared in all probability the state live stock sanitary board will ask the coming legislature for an appropriation for the purchase of tuberculin to be used in live stock tests throughout the state. The supply has formerly come from Washington, but in the past few months the demand has been so great the supply will now have to be supplied by other sources. In July, August and September last year, 1321 cattle were tested in Wisconsin. During the same months in the present year, 4,170 were tested.

FARM BUILDINGS DESTROYED BY FIRE

$10,000 Loss At Farm of E. C. Cornelius Near Monroe—Other News of Interest.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Monroe, Wis., Oct. 20.—Late yesterday afternoon all of the farm buildings, with one or two exceptions, on the E. C. Cornelius farm, just west of the city, were burned to the ground by their contents. The fire started from spontaneous combustion in the largest barn on the farm and quickly spread to the other buildings. The farm is just outside of the city limits and when Chief Joe Blumer learned of the fire, he gathered a number of the local firemen in automobiles, and the hook and ladder apparatus was taken out to the scene. The horses and cow barn, chicken house, hog shed and windmill were soon a mass of flames. The loss will reach $10,000 or more.

The city of Monroe has a new addition known as the Bridge-West addition. The new annex has been added by the city council and consists of twenty-eight lots lying at the north-east edge of town. The plot has been before the council for some time but objection was made to one lot which would block the extension of a street should property beyond ever be platted.

Miss Verona Kinsley of this city, and Charles Whitford Perry, of Cincinnati, Ohio, were married in Chicago at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. D. Lynch, 634 Koeley avenue. The bride is a graduate of the Monroe high school and attended the American Conservatory of Dramatic Art. They will make their home in Cincinnati.

Miss Edna Weirich and Mr. Herman Burgy, both well known young people of this city, were married here yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. J. H. Berkey, and left on the afternoon train for a wedding trip to Buffalo, N. Y. The wedding was a quiet, home affair.

During their absence from their desks in the high school, money was taken from the pocketbooks of three students in the high school, change being left in every instance. The news of the theft has made a stir in the building.

The annual inspection of the W. R. 2, was held in the Corps hall Mrs. Anna E. Noyes, department inspector, presiding at the inspection. An elaborate 6 o'clock banquet preceded the business meeting, the tables being placed in the form of a double horseshoe. The guests of honor for the evening were Mrs. E. P. Mitchell, of Janesville, former president of the local corps, Mrs. P. W. Puffer, past department president and Mrs. Amelia Crouch, president of the Monticello corps.

FURCA GIVEN TWO YEARS IN PRISON

Jury Trying Italian for Shooting Edward Miller Returned Verdict of Guilty at 9:30 Last Night.

After deliberations lasting an hour and a half, the jury trying Joe (Giuseppe) Furca in municipal court yesterday returned a verdict at 9:30 last evening finding him guilty on the lesser count charging assault on Edward Miller with intent to do great bodily harm. Judge Fifelet sentenced the Italian to serve two years in the penitentiary at Waupun and he was taken there today by Sheriff Scheibel, along with James Lyons who was sentenced on Tuesday to serve a term of one year for "rolling" Martin Amundson at Evansville.

Furca and Joe Danae were the only witnesses for the defendant, and Daniel Torrist of Beloit acted as interpreter. A plea of self-defense was advanced and the claim that Furca was subject to epileptic fits was set up as an extenuating circumstance.

Roy De Mo, Frank and Walter Schumacher, Elmer Schumacher, Fred Kahlow, Sheriff Scheibel, Chief Appleby, and Dr. Penber were among the witnesses for the prosecution. The doctor dressed the injured man's wounds and testified regarding the extent and the loss by Miller of his right eye.

Miller was shot by Furca near some barnhouses in the C. & N. W. South Janesville yards on Sept. 19. Furca strove to justify his act by claiming that Miller had been stealing tomatoes from his little garden plot and the further claim that Miller drew a revolver when confronted with his supposed guilt. There was little evidence to support this latter allegation.

MOST CERTAIN WAY TO END A BAD COLD
Surely breaks the most severe cold and ends Grippe misery in just a few hours.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pope's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

You distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippe symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most miserable headache, neuralgia pains, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrh, hic-coughs, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pope's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.
Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pope's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM IS TO BE REBUILT

Rockford Interurban Plans to Re-model Its Methods of Communication and Train Dispatching.

Determined to have the best possible dispatching system for their lines the Rockford and Interurban company is engaged in rebuilding its telephone system and already has it under way. This will require eighty miles of new metallic circuit and about fifty new phones. The circuit will be bare galvanized wire inside the city where it is likely to be damaged by trees or other circuits.

The dispatcher's office will have an entirely new outfit of the latest pattern with every device for easy and prompt operation of the line. The entire installation will be of the most approved type and will make the dispatching of trains as positive and safe as is possible.

Some time ago the line adopted a standard form for orders, modeled after that used by railroads. The orders are written in triplicate when issued from the home office and in duplicate when received by conductors along the line. The motorman and conductor each has a copy and they compare to make sure both understand the order.

As a matter of fact nine-tenths of the trains run on what is known as "regular orders," a set scheme of meeting places and time that becomes a habit and is not likely to be forgotten. It is the endeavor of the dispatcher to keep to this schedule and to make as few special orders as possible.

With the new phone installation orders will be transmitted with the maximum of clearness and the possibility of error will be reduced to a minimum. The old phone line and instruments will be allowed to remain and will be given such repairs as are needed to keep them in operation. This line then will be used for commercial work, leaving the new wires for dispatching.

The old line, also, will be available in case trouble occurs on the new line at any time. With two sets of wires it is not likely both would be out of order at the same time.

JEWISH FESTIVALS WILL LAST A WEEK

Last of the Series of Fall Holidays Began on Monday Last Continue This Week

The last of the series of Jewish fall holidays began Monday and will continue for a week, closing Oct. 25 with Simchat Torah, which means the rejoicing over the law.

This holiday is known as Succoth—the Feast of Tabernacles, or the Feast of Tabernacles. It is the anniversary of the ancient Hebrew harvest festival and the booths commemorate the days when the Israelites dwelt in booths during 40 years of their wanderings in the wilderness.

During the Succoth festival the orthodox Jews have their meals in temporarily constructed booths, erected in the backyards of their homes. These habitations for one week only are decorated with fruits of the season, garlands of leaves and flowers suspended from the corners of the ceiling. To give it a home-like air, the walls bear family and religious pictures. The orthodox also say their morning prayers with the serag in one hand and the lulav in the other. The serag is the finest specimen of the lime, in years past imported from Palestine, where the new colonists grow them. The lulav is a branch of the palm and myrtle.

Simchat Torah, a "home" and synagogue festival on that day two scrolls of the old testament written on parchment are ornamented with gold and silver trimmings, covered with velvet and carried about the synagogue sides in triumph.

IS THE SPORTING EDITOR OF NEW CHICAGO WEEKLY PAPER

John C. De Long, Formerly a Resident of Janesville, Becomes Associated With Morrison's Weekly.
According to the announcement of the new Chicago weekly magazine, Morrison's Weekly, John C. De Long, a former resident of Janesville, is to become the sporting editor of the publication. In the former announcement of Mr. De Long's association with the venture the editor-in-chief says:

"John C. De Long, recognized throughout sportdom as an authority on automobiles, yachting and athletics, will have charge of the sporting columns of Morrison's, assisted by Joseph M. Coffey. Mr. De Long will devote himself to his own specialties. "He entered the sporting department of The Chicago Tribune in 1901, specialized in yachting and became known as the leading western writer on that sport. For the past three years Mr. De Long has edited the Cherry Circle, the monthly organ of the Chicago Athletic Association. He is a member of the Chicago Athletic Association, the Chicago Yacht club, the Chicago Motor club, and the Chicago Newspaper club.
Mr. De Long is closely identified with the sporting game. He was secretary of the contest board of the Chicago Motor club, which promoted the recent Elgin national automobile races."

PROPOSED ROUTE OF ENDURANCE RACES

Janesville Included in Next Year's Routing For the Great State Race.

Officials of the Wisconsin State Automobile association are planning for the 1941 reliability tour and several routes are under consideration. Approximately 500 miles will be covered and Beloit will be on the route. It has been suggested that the run be made from Milwaukee to Marquette via Sheboygan, Two Rivers, Algoma, Green Bay and Oconto, the first day, a distance of about 184 miles.

For the second day the plan is to run from Marquette to Grand Rapids via Black River Falls, Sparta, La Crosse and Marshfield, a distance of about 204 miles.

For the third day it has been suggested that the run be made from Grand Rapids to Prairie du Chien via Black River Falls, Marquette, La Crosse and Viroqua, a distance of about 192 miles.

For the fourth day the proposed run is from Prairie du Chien to Beloit via Fond du Lac, Lancaster, Waterville, Mineral Point, Darlington, Monroe and Janesville.

For the fifth day's run from Beloit to Milwaukee, the route discussed is via Clinton, De Pere, Fontana, Lake Koshong, Burlington, Union Grove, Kenosha and Racine. It has been suggested that the trip be to Dela-ware, thence to Fontana and around Lake Geneva once, and a half time, going from the village of Lake Geneva to Burlington, thence to Kenosha, Racine and home, making a run of about 128 miles.

Suggestions as to the best roads between the points named will be gladly received, and it is the desire of the officers of the Wisconsin State Automobile association that anyone knowing good routes between these points send in his data, so as to aid in the work.

THEATRE

Signor Luigi D'Urbano, a versatile wizard of the baton, and his skilled band of forty-five musicians will be the attraction at the Myers theatre for eight concerts, commencing Thursday, Oct. 27. Luigi D'Urbano is only twenty-nine years old, yet he has established for himself a prestige to make envious older composers and directors. He was born at Naples, Italy, and at the age of twenty he left musical college to direct a band. He was director of this band for three years and received recognition in all the European cities. He has played at Riverside park, the Coliseum and the International theatre at Chicago, and in all the largest cities in the east and west. And in all the cities where he and his band have appeared they have met with hearty receptions. There are forty-five men in the band, all artists, and the instruments used are quite varied. All that any musical organization could desire has been secured and the harmony is perfect. As an added feature to the royal Italian band, Signor D'Urbano has secured twenty grand opera singers, among whom are the noted Italian tenor singer, "Romero Monetti," and the famous contralto singer, "Matilde Del Campo." Both of these singers have appeared before the King of Italy. This is their first appearance.

TELLS OF $500,000 RACE FUND, Probe in New York Legislative Draft Causes a Sensation.

New York, Oct. 20.—Representative Otto G. Foerker, the man who was carried from his sick bed into the state senate chamber to cast the deciding vote for the anti-racing bills urged by Governor Hughes, took the stand as a sworn witness and told the Merritt joint legislative committee the details of an alleged attempt in 1908 by former State Senator Frank J. Gardner, who is now under arrest, to buy his vote.

Gardner was called to the stand, but refused to testify.

Robert Elder, first assistant district attorney of Kings county (Brooklyn), repeated a conversation which, he says, he had with Gardner in March last, and which previously had been referred to as a "confession."

Mr. Elder did not vouch as of his own knowledge for the truth of what he repeated, but he gave for what it might be worth testimony that involved more names of men now living and names of men higher in social, business and political life, coupled with the distribution of bigger sums of money than anything yet heard in either the Albee hearing or any of the previous sessions of the present committee of inquiry.

The narrative created a sensation. Briefly, it told of a dinner at Delmonico's of prominent men friendly to the race tracks, of $500,000 subscribed to a corruption fund, of the distribution of this fund to politicians and to well-known political correspondents at Albany of the New York newspapers, and of the secret grievance of the late Senator Patrick McGarrah that worked for the passage of the bill against his own wishes and his own associates.

It has a damper top and a cool handle. Indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain, and cannot get lost.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection is finished in Japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Graham chuckled. "Gussie the folks haven't been talking much to you about me," he suggested. "You seem to have a higher opinion of the value of my time than anybody else in Radville."

"Yes, but—that is to say—"

"But if you're really looking for a job I'd like to give you one first rate."

Duncan started toward him in breathless haste. "You—you'd like to? You don't mean it?"

"Yes," Graham nodded, smiling with enjoyment of his little joke. It was harmless. He didn't for a moment believe that Duncan really needed employment, and, on the other hand, it tickled him immensely to think that any one should apply to him for work.

"Well," said Duncan, staring, "you are the first man I ever met that felt that way about it."

Sam's amusement dwindled. "The trouble is," he confessed—"the trouble is, my boy, my business is so small I don't need any help. There isn't much of anything to do here."

"That's just the sort of place I'd like," said Duncan impulsively. "Then he laughed a little uneasily. 'I mean I'm willing to take any position, no matter how insignificant. I mean it, honestly.'"

"This might suit you, then—"

"I wish you'd let me try it, sir."

"But you don't understand," Graham was serious enough now. There wasn't any joke in what he had to say. "To tell you the truth, I can't afford it. When your pay was due I'm afraid I shouldn't have any money to give you."

Duncan dismissed this paltry consideration with a princely gesture. "I don't mind that part," he insisted. "Mr. Graham, if you'll touch me the drug business I'll work for you for nothing."

He said it earnestly, for he meant it just a bit more seriously than he himself realized at the moment, and I'm glad to think it was because Sam's serene and gentle, guileless nature had appealed to the young man.

"Between you and me," he hurried on, "it's this way—I've been here for two weeks with nothing to do but look at a book, and it's got me crazy enough to want to work."

As for Sam, as soon as he recovered he shook his head in thoughtful depression. "Well, I want," he said, "I guess you must find it pretty slow down here. But," brightening, "if you feel that way about it I'd better take you over to Southern & Lee's. They'd be glad to get you at the price."

"And in a week they'd think they were overpaying me," Duncan argued. "No, I've been there. Why not try me on here?"

"Well, I'm just a little bit afraid you wouldn't learn much, my boy. I don't do business enough to give you a good idea of it."

"Will $5 be enough?"

he insisted. "How can we build up trade without a man?"

"But—but—"

"And how can I learn the business without trade?" He closed Graham's unwilling fingers over the money and skipped away.

Sighing, Graham gave over the unequal argument. "Well, if you're satisfied, my boy, but I'll have to write to Elmhurst for it."

"Telegraph," Graham laughed. "That would kill Lew Parker, I guess."

"Who's he?"

"Telegraph operator and ticket agent."

"Well, he won't be missed much. Telegraph and tell 'em to send the goods. C. O. D. Please, Mr. Graham. We want to get things moving here, you know. We've got to build up the business. We'll put out some signs and—"

and, well, we'll get the people in the habit of coming here somehow. You'll see."

He raked the poverty stricken shelves with a calculating eye, all his energy fired by enthusiasm at the prospect of doing something. Graham watched him with kindling liking and admiration. His old idea quivered a little before he voiced his thought.

"You—you know, my boy, you've got splendid business ability," he asserted, with whole-souled conviction.

Duncan almost reeled. "What?" he cried.

"I was just saying you have wonderful business ability."

"You're the first man that ever said that. I wonder if it's so."

"I'm sure of it."

"Well," said Nat, chuckling, "I'll write that to my mum. Huh!"

"Now, I can tell," Graham interrupted. "Oh, I—Well, you see, I've been a failure in business. So far as that goes, I've been a failure in everything all my life."

Duncan stared for a moment, then offered his hand. "For luck," he explained, meeting Graham's puzzled gaze as his hand was taken.

Wondering, Graham shook his head, and gratitude made his old voice tremulous. "He put a hand over Duncan's, patting it gently."

Duncan brushed this impatiently aside. "How much business are you doing here now?"

"Some days"—Graham reckoned it on his fingers—"I take in a dollar or two and some days nothing. There's my body fountain," he said, with a jerk of a thumb toward it—"got that fixed up a little while ago, and it's bringing in a little more now. You see, I need more straps. I've only got vanilla now."

"Soda water!" Duncan jumped at the idea. "Hold on! All the girls round here drink soda, don't they?"

"Oh, yes," said Graham abstractedly.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE thought infused new life into the younger man's wandering purpose. "Mr. Graham, I wish you'd let me come, in here, for awhile. I don't care about wages."

Graham lifted his shoulders resignedly. "Well, my boy, it doesn't seem right, but if you really want to work here for nothing I'll be glad to have you, and if things look up with me I'll be glad to pay you."

Abruptly he found his hand grasped and pumped gratefully.

"That's mighty good of you, Mr. Graham. When can I start?"

"Why, whenever you like."

In a twinkling Duncan's hat and gloves were off. "I'd like to now," he said. "Where can we get more straps?"

"Unfortunately I'll have to buy them."

"How much?" Duncan's hand was in his pocket in an instant.

"Oh, no, you mustn't do that," Sam backed away in alarm. "I couldn't allow it, my boy. It's good of you, but—"

"Either," Nat told himself, "I'm asleep or some one's refusing to take money from me." He grinned cheerfully. "Oh, that's all right," he contended aloud. "I'll draw it down as soon as we begin to sell soda. I'll select a bill from his slender store. 'Will $5 be enough?'"

"Oh, yes, but it wouldn't be right for me to—"

But by this time Duncan was pressing the bill into his hand. "Nonsense!"

He insisted. "How can we build up trade without a man?"

"But—but—"

"And how can I learn the business without trade?" He closed Graham's unwilling fingers over the money and skipped away.

Sighing, Graham gave over the unequal argument. "Well, if you're satisfied, my boy, but I'll have to write to Elmhurst for it."

Wondering, Graham shook his head, and gratitude made his old voice tremulous. "He put a hand over Duncan's, patting it gently."

"I want you to know, my boy, that I appreciate," his voice broke, "it's a mighty kind of you to buy the strap—very kind!"

"Nothing of the sort. It's just because I've got great business ability," Duncan laughed quietly and moved away. "Well, want to clean up a bit," said he. "Got a broom? I'll raise the

"You'll find one in the cellar, I guess, but—your clothes—"

"Oh, that's all right. Where's the collar?"

"Underneath," Graham told him simply, taking down a battered hat from a hook behind the counter.

"I know. But how do I get there?"

"By the steps. You go through that door there into the hall. The steps are under the stairs to our rooms. I live above the store, you see."

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Gazette, Oct. 20, 1870.

THE WAR-PEACE NEWS.

London, Oct. 19.—It is said that "Tidors will urge at Tours the instant conclusion of peace. The latter prevails at Havre that the United States will interfere to prevent the bombardment of Paris. The two sides of the city not protected by the river are well defended by forts. The inhabitants are determined to contest every inch of ground.

Berlin, Oct. 19.—The ministerial organ declares that negotiations for peace on the part of neutralists are useless. France must herself sue for peace, or submit unconditionally to the terms already stated.

Jottings.—It is the intention of the managers of the Harris Manufacturing Company to move their works from this city as soon as they can decide where to locate. The only one establishments which really flourish in Janesville are breweries, butcher shops and grocery wagons.

There is to be a trial of mowers at the farm of Robert Stone in the town of Fulton on Saturday next.

Dr. Horne is located on lots near the east end of Court street bridge, which eight years ago were overflowed by the river. They have been made invaluable by the filling in with earth and gravel, and the street in front has been brought up to the required level. This improvement keeps the river within specified limits, and adds much to the value of surrounding property.

A horse was stolen from the stable of Mr. H. B. Dalley, in the first ward of this city, last night. A reward of fifty dollars is offered for the recovery of the horse and the apprehension of the thief, or twenty five dollars for either.

EVANSVILLE.

Evansville, Wis., Oct. 19.—On Saturday evening, Oct. 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Keylock occurred a Union and chautauque given for Miss Lila Franklin, by the Misses Lila and Josephine, Marguerite Colony and Hazel Koylock. The home was very prettily and elaborately decorated with pink and white hearts and bells and lighted with candles. At ten o'clock a dainty two-course luncheon was served. Small tables in the dining room were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, candles and hearts. Arrows were used for place-cards and every detail was carried out in the heart effect, even to the tea cream being served in heart shape. The event was pronounced a decided success by all present. Miss Franklin was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts.

COUNTY LINE.

County Line, Oct. 19.—Listen for wedding bells in the near future.

Mrs. Mary McCarthy and daughter, Helen, and grandson, Earl Young, spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Nora Mann who is suffering from the effects of a sprained ankle.

Miss Laura Farber is visiting friends in the vicinity of Stoughton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hunt of Evansville, and Miss Margaret Korin were Sunday visitors at the home of Judd McCarthy.

Mrs. Ramsey spent Saturday evening with Mrs. Allen Vinoy.

Tobacco buyers are very numerous in this section but no sales have been effected thus far.

Mrs. Judd McCarthy spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. Ed. Fox of South Porter.

A large delegation from here attended the opening sale at the Orange and Economy stores in Evansville on Wednesday.

Frank Herlick and son of Edgerton are doing some carpenter and mason work for Herman Erickson.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd McCarthy in company with some Brooklyn and Evansville friends went to Chicago on Wednesday to attend the ball game between the Cubs and Athletics.

MAGNOLIA.

Magnolia, Oct. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Edwards attended the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. L. E. Danham, at Spring Green, Wis., Sunday afternoon, returning home Tuesday.

Rev. Melges of Arena conducted services at the Advent church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCoy and daughter, Ada, spent Saturday night and Sunday in Magnolia.

Antone Cole left for Dakota Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. F. Woodcock, Lottie Edwards and Mrs. T. M. Harper were Evansville shoppers Wednesday.

TOWN LINE.

Town Line, Oct. 19.—Town Line residents were treated to a view of four of the ten balloons which set out from St. Louis on Monday. The first one was sighted about 4 a. m. Tuesday. Those who saw it said it looked like a ball of fire. The others passed over at 5:30, 6:45 and the last one at about 8 o'clock. One of them floated so low at some places that the figures could easily be distinguished, while at one farm house the occupants of the balloon hailed the people on the ground, telling them where they had come from.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lee and son, Will, were over Sunday visitors at the home of their daughter, Mrs. L. C. Walters.

Mrs. Lizzie Haley returned to her home in Milwaukee last Tuesday after a pleasant visit with her cousin, J. C. Eddy and family.

James Cottle left last Saturday for Livingston, Mont., to make his future home. Mrs. Cottle will start next Wednesday to join her husband.

D. Dehling and John Lindo have been building cement tanks. Mr. Lindo expects to put in a cement floor in his barn very soon.

This fine weather continues to ripen the strawberries, one family picking enough for a meal, Tuesday, while another lady found several clusters of very nice red raspberries.

Discoveries at Venice.

Some very interesting discoveries have been made in the course of excavation work around the island of Lido, at Venice, where a number of ancient pieces of artillery have been found beneath six feet of mud. The cannon are all in a state of excellent preservation, though it is clear, from their construction, that they must date back to the period almost immediately after the discovery of gunpowder, and it is believed that they will prove of very great artistic and historic value.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY

It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here to your own home town!

A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25 cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

If you find any substance in your baking injurious to health made from baking powder in this can there is—

$1000 In it for you

Calumet has been backed for years by an offer of $1,000 for any substance injurious to health found in the baking prepared with it.

Does not this and the fact that it complies with all pure food laws, both State and National, prove that Calumet is absolutely pure?

With the purity question settled—then Calumet is undoubtedly the best Baking Powder. It contains more leavening power; it is more uniform—every can is the same. It assures better results—and is moderate in price.
